Policy 100.0195

Effective Date:

Version: 1

The Department of Children, Youth and Families provides staff with access to computers and software applications for work related activities. Because protecting the confidentiality of the children, youth and families served by the Department is of paramount importance, all state and federal law and policies regarding confidentiality are fully applicable to use of Departmental commuters and information systems, paper or electronic.

Software applications include the Rhode Island Children's Information System (RICHIST), office automation tools (such as Microsoft Word) and electronic mail. The Management Information Systems (MIS) Division purchases, maintains, issues, supports and upgrades computers, hard ware and software authorized for Department staff use. The Department strictly adheres to software license agreements; the MIS division conducts an annual audit to ensure compliance. Staff use of the Internet is monitored and logged. Logs contain information relating to each user, such as which web sites the staff person visited and when he or she visited each site. This information is provided to the supervisor of a staff member upon the supervisor's request. The MIS Division also reviews these logs on a regular basis for network planning and troubleshooting.
