Presentation about Personal Choice by Linnea Tuttle: A program allowing those who want to stay in their homes, can hire their family members as caregivers with the exception of a spouse. Those who are not able to make their own decisions due to dementia, can get another person to fill in the application. The process includes an application, BCI background check, and wages are paid directly to the caregiver. A spouse cannot be a paid caregiver yet any other family member can be hired. The process takes about three months from application and is paramount to a person-centered plan in that the person gets to choose where their budget goes for their care. This program must be managed by the individual and reporting is very important. Monitoring does take place. Three agencies are currently offering Personal Choice: Tri-Town, Access Point RI, Seven Hills. Tri-Town is not currently accepting applications. There is a wait list of approximately 195 people who have started the process. Further questions on the program should be directed to Co-Chair Maureen Maigret.

Home and Community Based Final Rule – Presented by Linnea Tuttle: Presented to the community in 2014 and we have until 2022 to be compliant with the rule. Involves looking at all services, including integration, behavioral health, adult day and group housing, as well as other agencies to enable patients to be directing what they want to do, what places they want to visit, what is beneficial to them, thus allowing them more autonomy in making decisions. This data collection and culmination of the process is underway.

Office of Veterans Affairs overview was provided by Director Kasim Yarn: His presentation highlighted the new and updated Veteran's Home, the Veterans Cemetery that supports the families of 34,000 of our heroes as well as numerous programs that are available to all veterans. He gave an overview of the RI Serves Program that is a referral program used by various agencies, members and referral sources to keep a veteran's request moving through the system quickly. During his brief tenure, he has made it a point to visit every Town Manager, Mayor and Town Administrator in the state. He continues to look for ways to improve how the State of Rhode Island serves and supports its veteran population.

LogistiCare Overview by Diane Fache: Most people transported are to medication assisted treatment centers, followed by medical appointments for the elderly. Drivers recently received training on how to communicate with passengers especially those with behavioral issues. This training will be mandatory training for all drivers. More than one passenger is allowed for transport. Transportation meetings will continue at the Alliance for Better Long- Term Care Office.

ICI Report Update by Dawn Allen: The report has been mailed out to individuals. Dawn sent out data by population age group. Questions can be directed to Dawn at Integrated Care.
