III. Crisis Protection Class Global Remarks

Mr. Burns recapped the purpose of implementing the Crisis Protection Class (CPC). During the Asset Allocation Study, it was determined something should be put in the place to protect against down markets and produce appreciation during a growth crisis. The Board approved a CPC portfolio that was structured 50/50 between Treasury Duration and Systematic Trend Following that has similar volatility to the rest of the portfolio at a relatively simple and low cost structure. The long duration managers have been selected and the systematic trend following manager recommendations are scheduled for April. There will be one platform manager that oversee the entire CPC, which is 8% of total assets. The platform manager acts as a fiduciary and conducts operational due diligence of systemic trend managers, as well as performs custodial functions. Additionally, the platform manager assists in risk management and will be involved the creation of a risk dashboard.

Ms. Maxfield expressed interest in the risk dashboard being created by the platform manager noting it would be beneficial for board members to view the dashboard upon completion to ensure its usefulness and help understand the information being produced. Both Treasurer Magaziner and Mr. Nguyen agreed.

The Treasurer noted an important function of the platform manager will be the intra class rebalancing aspect. This is particularly important with a new class whose underlying strategies are somewhat volatile and can be rebalanced daily rather than monthly to ensure the allocation stays at 8% and is evenly distributed between treasuries and systematic trend following.

Treasury investment staff and PCA recommend Aberdeen – Hedgemark as the CPC platform Manager.

IV. Crisis Protection Class Manager Presentation

Mr. Wolf provided an organization overview of Aberdeen. He then proceeded to explain their responsibilities, as previously outlined by Mr. Burns, and expanded on their processes to meet those duties, specifically regarding operational due diligence, risk assessment and performance analytics.

Mr. Lapkin provided an organization overview of Hedgemark. He explained the organization's specialty is assisting institutional investors in the setup and operation of funds that don't readily fit in traditional long custody accounts, a category in which the systematic trend following strategy falls. Their responsibility will involve only the core, non-investment functions of the CPC portfolio.

The board asked questions.

V. Crisis Protection Class Manager Recommendation

Mr. Linder summarized the platform manager selection process. He reported the services and fees associated with the product under the negotiated terms with Aberdeen/Hedgemark. He made a clear distinction between Aberdeen and Hedgemark, explaining that Aberdeen acts a fiduciary and overall manager of the CPC while Hedgemark acts as a platform infrastructure provider, giving Aberdeen necessary data to makes its decisions on risk and rebalancing.

He then provided an anticipated timeline to implement the Crisis Protection Class should the recommendation be approved.

The board asked questions.

On a motion by Ms. Maxfield and seconded by Ms. Reback, it was

VOTED: to approve the engagement of Aberdeen and Hedgemark, and the creation of the Crisis Protection Class platform in accordance with the presentation materials furnished to the SIC members.

Mr. Fay recused himself from the vote

VI. Legal Counsel Report

There was no legal counsel report.

VII. Chief Investment Officer Report

Mr. Nguyen provided the performance update for February. The total portfolio value increased $93.3 million to rest at $7.9 billion. The month's increase comes from $128.5 million of positive investment performance (which put the portfolio's 12-month investment earnings over the $1 billion mark) offset by $35.2 million of transfers to meet pension payroll in excess of pension contributions. On a percentage basis, the portfolio increased 1.66%, lagging both the plan benchmark of 1.70% and basic 60% global equity/40% fixed income allocation of 1.95%. Global equity markets, emerging market equities, global sovereign and corporate bonds all performed well.

Mr. Nguyen then apprised the Board that over the next month, staff and PCA will be working to develop an Investment Policy Statement (IPS) for the CPC and will bring forth three recommendations for systematic trend following managers.

The board asked questions.
